Elation Europe: We support our industry!

Elation Europe is pleased to be participating in the Prolight + Sound tradeshow in Frankfurt on May 26-29, not only as an important global entertainment technology show but also as a sign of important support for the industry. Prolight + Sound is the leading international event in our industry and Elation is again pleased to be backing the show with its participation.

Elation Europe is genuinely concerned about the developments of the Covid-19 virus and its affect on the entertainment technology industry. With the cancellation of events and exhibitions, those companies that support these shows have been hit especially hard. That's another reason why Elation's participation in PL+S is so important.

Elation Europe, as a responsible industry leader, will always observe the recommendations and/or directive of governmental authorities and trust in the ability of public governments and health authorities to advise what is best for industry and the welfare of the public. Provided that governmental health ministries and local public health officials declare it safe to travel to and participate in an event or exhibition, Elation Europe will heed that recommendation and participate in tradeshow and other events.
