Kuchem Konferenz Technik Invests in Elation SixPar™ LED Color Changers

After German system integration and event technology company Kuchem Konferenz Technik purchased 110 Elation Professional SixBar 1000™ LED battens earlier in the summer, the next logical step was to add 100 SixPar 100™ LED Par color changers to its inventory.

“Our growth over the last few years has meant more customer requests for flexible color-changing lighting and the SixBar and now the SixPar purchase has helped us address that,” stated Kristina Kuchem, CEO of Kuchem Konferenz Technik.

“The Par lights we used before were less flexible and the color fastness wasn’t very good. The SixPar has a much more sturdy design. We have already used them for several congresses, for decorative use and for general color lighting like for illuminating signs and for gala concerts as part of the stage setting.”

Useful for production applications or installations, the SixPar series of PAR color changers features a high-power single lens RGBWA+UV LED multi-chip for an expanded palette of colors. It is available in three versions, each in indoor and IP65 outdoor variants – SixPar 100™, SixPar 200™ and SixPar 300™, with 7, 12 and 18 x 12-watt LEDs respectively.

In operation since 1981, Kuchem Konferenz Technik is a professional service supplier for event equipment rental, multimedia system integration and event services. Headquartered near Bonn with branch operations in Berlin and Cologne, Kuchem Konferenz Technik clients include the areas of public authority and telecommunications, as well as several high-end hotels.
