Stage Right Lighting of Virginia hosts live stream benefit concert

With live concerts on hold, the live event production community is responding by hosting live stream concerts for the benefit of bands and production crews struggling to make ends meet amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

On Saturday evening, April 4th, Stage Right Lighting of Virginia Beach teamed up with Smartmouth Beer to broadcast The Relief Stream featuring local rock band Bennett Wales & the Relief. The benefit concert was streamed live from Stage Right Lighting's own studio, decked out using their extensive inventory of lighting gear.

The lighting setup included Elation Proteus Rayzor 760™ LED moving heads and Seven Batten 72™ linear LED lights, along with ZW37 II™ LED moving heads, a few of which had GoPro cameras mounted to their face for wide-angle video shots.

Revenue generated from the live stream went to support music and production crews of the Virginia Beach and Hampton Roads area. Experience or relive the show at https://stagerightlighting.com/?page_id=278
